About the Event

Join Us in a Brand New Location: Boston, March 2025!

As the biopharmaceutical industry continues to rely on alliances and collaboration with external organizations to access innovation and obtain market access, internal teams are often confronted with the increasing complexities of systematically and effectively managing partnerships throughout their lifecycle. The function and organizational capability of Alliance Management is now recognized as a critical means to ensure the successful execution of any strategic partnership, acting as a central driver of value, while alleviating aggravations, and meeting alliance goals.

Now in its twenty-second year, CHI's Strategic Alliance Management Congress will again unite senior alliance management, business development, project management, technology transfer, and licensing professionals to network, discuss case studies, and share the components that cultivate successful partnerships. Delegates will gain strategic insights, proven tools, methods, and perspectives from a variety of leaders advancing the art of Alliance Management.

“This was a great conference and it provided excellent foundational principles for organizations that are looking to create a Strategic Alliance Position or enhance their current Alliance Management function.”

- Patrick Kennedy, Alliance Manager, Nationwide Children's Hospital

TUESDAY, MARCH 25

7:15 am Registration and Morning Coffee8:15 Organizer's Welcome Remarks*8:20 Chairperson's RemarksKatherine Kendrick, Head of Alliance Management, Jazz Pharmaceuticals8:25 Networking Meet & GreetBrent Harvey, Executive Director, Alliance Management and M&A Integration, Eli Lilly & Co.*

Don't miss out on this fantastic opportunity to make new connections, share insights, and lay the groundwork for a memorable conference journey.

OPTIMIZE ALLIANCE MANAGEMENT IMPACT IN YOUR ORGANIZATION8:55 Beyond the Deal: How to Integrate Alliance Management Early to Fuel Partnership SuccessBrian Stewart, Executive Director, Alliance Management, Global Business Development, Daiichi Sankyo*

Explore the critical role of Alliance Management from the earliest stages of a partnership. This session highlights strategies to integrate alliance teams during deal structuring to enhance collaboration, mitigate risks, and ensure alignment. Discover how proactive Alliance Management drives long-term value and strengthens partnerships beyond the initial agreement.

9:25 Optimizing Alliance Staffing: Strategies for Determining and Justifying the Right Team Size*Christopher Black, Head, Corporate Alliance Management & Integration, Merck & Co., Inc.*

This discussion explores the commonly expressed pain points of excessive work and limited alliance resources. Participants will delve into workload drivers and efficiency optimization strategies, while seeking to understand what senior management must understand and believe in order for them to support headcount requests. Practical tools will be presented to help individual contributors and people managers understand their unique situations and build their own business cases.

9:55 Coffee Break with Exhibit ViewingLEVERAGING GenAI TOOLS TO ENHANCE ALLIANCE MANAGEMENT*10:25 Talk Title to be AnnouncedLouis Rinfret, Founder & CEO, allianceboard*allianceboard10:40 GenAI Applications in Alliance ManagementDoug Williams, Senior Director Alliance Management, Alliance Management, Incyte Corp.*

Discover how artificial intelligence is revolutionizing alliance management in the pharma and biotech industry by improving efficiency. This interactive presentation explores practical strategies for leveraging AI to optimize operations, streamline communication, and enhance problem-solving and negotiation across partnerships. Join us to learn how GenAI can reduce the alliance manager's workload, boost productivity, and lead to greater alliance success.

11:10 PANEL DISCUSSION: Real World Applications—Uses of GenAI in Alliance Management*Moderator: Grace Vandal, Executive Director, Alliance & Program Management, Zentalis Pharmaceuticals Inc.*

This panel will dive into how Generative AI (GenAI) is being incorporated into Alliance Management processes and activities. Discuss how AI tools can streamline collaboration, improve decision-making, reduce administrative load, and enhance relationship management between partners. Attendees will gain insights into real-world applications of GenAI, addressing both the benefits and challenges of integrating AI into alliance strategies to maximize value and efficiency.

*Panelists:Adam Hammer, Director, Alliance Management, AbCelleraYekaterina Kazinik-Jorgji, Director, Strategic Operations & Partner Management, Strategic Operations & Partner Management, ModernaLouis Rinfret, Founder & CEO, allianceboardChristopher Rodricks, Senior Director, Strategic Partnerships, Pfizer11:55 Luncheon Presentation (Sponsorship Opportunity Available) or Enjoy Lunch on Your Own*12:25 pm Session Break*1:10 Chairperson's RemarksChristopher Black, Head, Corporate Alliance Management & Integration, Merck & Co., Inc.1:15 Mitigating Risk and Maximizing Opportunity: The Power of Option Alliances in Pharma PartnershipsNisha Zaidi, PhD MSc, Vice President, Business Development, Head of Global Alliances, Bristol Myers Squibb*

In option alliances, alliance managers play a crucial role in balancing incentives and responsibilities between partners. One party is incentivized to advance development while the other provides strategic advice, maintaining the right to license the molecule once de-risked. This approach allows for shared risk, with the advising party reserving the option to invest in a more mature, lower-risk asset, thus maximizing opportunity and alignment of interests.

1:45 PANEL DISCUSSION: Navigating Complexity: Effective Strategies for Managing and Optimizing Collaborative Partnerships and Alliance Ecosystems in Pharma*Moderator: Speaker to be Announced, Vantage Partners*

This presentation will provide strategic insights into managing and optimizing complex alliances within the pharmaceutical sector, focusing on the development and commercialization partnership between two large pharmaceutical companies. We will examine how to align competing interests across diverse teams, enhance collaboration in joint decision-making, and leverage governance frameworks to navigate complexity. Attendees will gain practical strategies for maximizing value creation and ensuring sustained success in high-stakes partnerships.

*Panelists:Stacey Larson, Senior Director, Alliance Management, Johnson & JohnsonNisha Zaidi, PhD MSc, Vice President, Business Development, Head of Global Alliances, Bristol Myers Squibb2:15 Refreshment Break with Exhibit Viewing*3:15 Synergizing Strengths: Managing a Complex Alliance for Breakthrough ADC DevelopmentAimee Crombie, Senior Vice President, Head of Strategic Planning and Operations, Prelude TherapeuticsAdam Hammer, Director, Alliance Management, AbCellera*

In 2023, Prelude Therapeutics and AbCellera formed a multi-year, multi-program alliance to develop and commercialize novel ADCs. This collaboration leverages Prelude's expertise in targeted protein degradation and clinical development with AbCellera's antibody discovery engine. This session will share insights on launching and managing this complex alliance, focusing on cross-functional team integration. Key learnings and tools will be presented to demonstrate effective management of co-development partnerships.

INTERACTIVE BREAKOUT DISCUSSIONS3:45 Interactive Breakout Discussions

Interactive Discussions are informal, moderated discussions, allowing participants to exchange ideas and experiences and develop future collaborations around a focused topic. Each discussion will be led by a facilitator who keeps the discussion on track and the group engaged. To get the most out of this format, please come prepared to share examples from your work, be a part of a collective, problem-solving session, and participate in active idea sharing. Please visit the Interactive Discussions page on the conference website for a complete listing of topics and descriptions.

TABLE 1: Stakeholder Engagement: Elevating the AM/Senior Executive Relationship

Jan Twombly, CSAP, President, The Rhythm of Business

Nisha Zaidi, PhD MSc, Vice President, Business Development, Head of Global Alliances, Bristol Myers Squibb

Building trusted advisor relationships between Alliance Managers (AMs) and senior executives is critical to ensuring alignment, trust, and strategic impact within partnerships. Senior executives rely on AMs to provide insights, navigate complex challenges, and deliver recommendations that drive decision-making. By elevating these relationships, AMs can position themselves as strategic partners rather than operational intermediaries. This table will explore skills, knowledge, and behaviors required to build credibility and influence with senior executives.

TABLE 2: Starting up an Alliance Management Function

Nuria Amador Vila, Director, Alliance Management, Almirall

Brent Harvey, Executive Director, Alliance Management and M&A Integration, Eli Lilly & Co.

Establishing a robust Alliance Management function is essential for effectively managing partnerships, ensuring alignment across teams, and driving long-term success. A well-structured AM function can streamline processes, improve communication, and enhance value creation in strategic alliances. Join this roundtable to discuss:

- Key responsibilities, reporting lines, and skillsets needed for a successful AM function
- Processes, governance frameworks, and technological tools to support the AM function

TABLE 3: When Partners Change: The Impact of Acquisitions and Sublicensing on Alliances

Sharon Morgenbesser, Independent Alliance Management Consultant

Traci Paciulli, Senior Director, Business Development Execution, Global Regulatory Affairs & Clinical Safety, Merck & Co.

Changes in alliance partners, though anticipated to some degree in contracts, can have a variety of unique and profound positive and negative impacts to an ongoing partnership. The Alliance Managers from all parties play a key role in helping their organizations navigate these changes. This table will discuss these changes from two perspectives: when your partner changes, and when you are the new partner.

OPTIMIZING ALLIANCE MANAGEMENT FUNCTION

8:25 Chairperson's Remarks

Amanda McAllister, Director II, Global Alliance Leader, AbbVie

8:30 Interactive Workshop: Improve Team Collaboration to Improve Alliance Outcomes

Jan Twombly, President, The Rhythm of Business, Inc.

Every alliance manager has dealt with dysfunctional project teams and ineffective governance committees. Research demonstrates that developing people's abilities to collaborate well results in enthusiastic, high performing teams that achieve better alliance outcomes. In this hands-on workshop, examine real-world scenarios and gain frameworks and tools for helping teams reduce churn, organize their work with no gaps or overlaps, and produce results.

9:15 Operationalizing Alliance Execution in Business: A Functional Example

Traci Paciulli, Senior Director, Business Development Execution, Global Regulatory Affairs & Clinical Safety, Merck & Co.

When two companies enter into a collaborative agreement, there are foundational components essential to enabling an effective working relationship. When executed well, it can set the relationship tone early with the potential to increase the efficiency of realizing the benefits of the partnership. This presentation will use regulatory function as an example to demonstrate how centralized support and a consistent approach can enable success in each new experience.

PARTNERING FOR SUCCESS IN AN INCREASINGLY COMPLEX ALLIANCE LANDSCAPE

10:45 Unlocking Platform Partnerships: An AbbVie–Frontier Medicines Alliance Case Study

Amanda McAllister, Director II, Global Alliance Leader, AbbVie

Donna Taneja, PhD, Vice President, Head Alliance Management, Frontier Medicines

Join us for a discussion from the front lines of alliance leadership navigating a platform technology collaboration. Donna Taneja from Frontier Medicines and Amanda McAllister from AbbVie will discuss how alliance leadership has helped unlock the value and potential of their company's collaboration. They will discuss real world examples of bridging differences between big pharma and platform biotechnology while inspiring their teams to perform at their full potential.

11:15 Building Platform Alliances between Charity, Industry, and Academia to Democratize Access to High Quality Technologies and Innovative Science

Beatrice Lana, Strategic Alliance Executive, Cancer Research UK (CRUK)

Gain insights into the CRH platform alliances that provide antibody and functional genomics capabilities to advance oncology research. Cancer Research UK, through in-house labs within CRH, collaborates with industry and academia to bridge gaps. By democratizing access to high-quality resources, the alliance model removes barriers to knowledge and technology. Explore how alliance management best practices have been applied to build, and progress these long-lasting strategic alliances.

11:45 PANEL DISCUSSION: Platform Alliances: Key Factors for Success

Moderator: Diana Sanchez, PhD, Director, Alliance Management, Beam Therapeutics

Partnering with platform companies provides opportunities to access novel, highly specialized therapeutic modalities without requiring the build of infrastructure. For platform companies themselves, alliances provide ways to expand the access of their platform to therapeutic areas that are out of scope and reach more patients. In this panel, alliance managers from a suite of platform companies will share their learnings about key factors to launch and maintain successful platform alliances.

Panelists:

Jitin Bajaj, Senior Director, Alliance Management, Beam Therapeutics

Annlouise Goodermuth, Executive Director, Business and Alliance Management, Moderna

Christina Tan Hehir, Senior Director, Alliance Management, Orbital Therapeutics

Peggy Taylor, Vice President, Head of Alliance Management, Alnylam

1:50 Driving Value in a Spanish/US Alliance

Nuria Amador Vila, Director, Alliance Management, Almirall

Brent Harvey, Executive Director, Alliance Management and M&A Integration, Eli Lilly & Co.

The collaboration between Almirall and Lilly was not initially planned but emerged from Lilly's acquisition of Dermira. This unexpected partnership has evolved into a high-performing alliance, thanks to the strategic influence of alliance management. We will share learnings from the alliance management strategies that were instrumental in this transformation. Our discussion will cover cultural awareness, operational efficiencies, and strategic alignment, providing valuable insights for fostering successful collaborations in similar contexts.

2:20 PANEL DISCUSSION: Navigating Global Alliances: Legal, Cultural, and Regulatory Challenges in Pharma Collaborations

Moderator: Jan Twombly, CSAP, President, The Rhythm of Business

In today's globalized pharma landscape, managing alliances across diverse regions presents complex challenges. This panel will explore what alliance managers need to understand about different legal and regulatory structures, including the impact of international sanctions. We'll discuss the unique dynamics of working with emerging markets like China. Panelists will share the critical importance of cultural considerations, from Japan's distinct business environment to navigating the diversity within the EU.

Panelists:

Karen Coffman, Director Alliance Management, Oncology Business Development & Licensing, AstraZeneca

Andi Gardner, Senior Director, Alliance Management, Biogen

IN-PERSON ONLY BREAKOUT: TABLE 4: Managing your Career as an Alliance Manager

Nisha Zaidi, PhD MSc, Vice President, Business Development, Head of Global Alliances, Bristol Myers Squibb

Advancing your career as an Alliance Manager requires strategic planning, continuous skills development, and the ability to navigate complex professional landscapes. As the role evolves, AMs must adapt to emerging trends, expand their expertise, and position themselves for long-term growth within the organization or industry. Join this discussion to explore strategies for career development.

IN-PERSON ONLY BREAKOUT: TABLE 5: Navigating Alliance Wind Down and Termination

Brent Harvey, Executive Director, Alliance Management and M&A Integration, Eli Lilly & Co.

Traci Paciulli, Senior Director, Business Development Execution, Global Regulatory Affairs & Clinical Safety, Merck & Co.

There are many reasons why a company may want to terminate an alliance. Whatever the reason, the parties must understand and follow the correct procedures for termination. Join this discussion to explore best practices for managing this process including establishing a clear exit strategy and governance plan, and strategies to steer through an alliance termination process while preserving trust and maintaining reputational integrity for future collaborations,

IN-PERSON ONLY BREAKOUT: TABLE 6: Alliance Communications and Reporting

Jan Twombly, CSAP, President, The Rhythm of Business

This interactive discussion explores strategies to design communication and reporting plans that provide clear insights into alliance activities without duplicating development and commercial reporting. Join this discussion to share best practices, address common challenges, and discover how to align reporting with alliance objectives.
